PULSE SECURITY ™

USER + DATA ACCESS CONTROL SYSTEM

Centralized control and detailed reporting of individual user access to sensitive Macola data

Do you know which employees have access to your sensitive company data?

New PULSE Security software instantly displays detailed report of security access by:
- Macola software application (ex. Company sales reports)
- Macola user
- Macola security group
- Macola database
- User and database

PULSE Security allows you to analyze all aspects of your Macola Progression security. Additionally, you can add or remove user and data security access rights on your screen.

You now can quickly and easily determine if someone in the shipping department was accidentally granted access to your sensitive sales information.

You can export any data on your screen directly to Excel for e-mailing or meetings. You can also export your entire security database to document your settings or perform further security analysis.
